

SINN FEIN RESISTANCE TO MARTIAL LAW RESULTS IN NEW KILLINGS AND CORK'S BUSINESS DISTRICT BURNS

Many Slain in Attack on British at Camlough Barracks
--Troops Ruthless Toward Bombers and Snipers
--Fire Damage in Cork, Sinn Fein Stronghold, $15,000,000.

From sporadic attacks and outbreaks, Ireland, within the past forty-eight house, has been plunged into a condition more closely approximating actual warfare than at any other time in the history of that unhappy country.

Ireland Republicans carried their war "into the enemy's country," by attacking the British troops occupying Canlough Barracks in North Ireland. According to unconfirmed reports many persons were killed in a violent battle at that place.

Troops that were being rushed to reinforce the defenders of Camlough barracks were ambushed and another battle took place at a railway viaduct between Newry and Camlough.

The pitched battle at Camlough was the first that has taken place since martial law was proclaimed throughout southwestern Ireland. In defiance of the martial law proclamation, the Sinn Féiners in South Ireland are evidently determined to wage relentless guerrilla warfare.

A military lorry was bombed outside of Cork and fourteen black and tan policemen wounded.

The whole heart of the city of Cork is a mass of smouldering ashes today. Black and tan policemen are accused of setting the torch to Cork in reprisal for a Sinn Fein attack Saturday night, but the Irish Office in London denied this. The partial destruction of Cork, entailing $15,000,000 damage was a severe blow to the Republican cause. Cork was the hotbed of Sinn Feinism. The foremost leaders of the movement lived there, funds were collected and maintained there and it was understood to be the seat of the inner councils. Terence MacSwiney, who became the hero of the Sinn Fein through his voluntary death for the cause, was formerly lord mayor of Cork.

All of South Ireland is crisscrossed with British troops. Measures are being taken to tighten and possibly extend martial law. All the motor cars were commandeered at Queensstown by British troops, which was interpreted as a preliminary move to more drastic military activity.

The severity with which the British troops are putting down salping and ambushade attacks were revealed from Cline, County Cork, where bombs were thrown from two houses at a military patrol. The bombers were attacked; one was killed, two others wounded and two made prisoners. Then both houses were burned to the ground.

Troops Guard Ruins.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Cork, Dec. 13.—Heavily armed British troops and black and tan police were on guard today about the fire swept ruins in the heart of Cork under orders to shoot all looters on sight.

The whole central part of the city was burned with loss estimated at $15,000,000.

Hundreds of persons are homeless. Many have fled from the city in panic.

The ruins were still smoldering this morning and the firemen under military guards were still pouring blinding flames quickly spread and soon the whole sky was alight from the spreading fires.

Early Sunday the black and tans began making many arrests. Some of the civilians arrested were accused of setting street cars on fire. Street car traffic and telephone service were suspended and by afternoon the heart of Cork resembled Verdun after the German bombard-

It is declared by Sinn Fein sympathizers that, before the fires broke out Saturday night black and tax policemen broke into shops and looted them, carrying off the booty in valises.

The conflagration followed an ambush of a military detachment at Pillons Cross.

Black and tans, soldiers and "specials" have raised the residential districts continuously since early Saturday morning, searching for Sinn Fein men. The first appearance in Cork of the "specials." They are unionists and were recruited and trained at Belfast and Tyrone. It is feared their presence will add fuel to the flames of Irish hatred throughout Dublin Firemen Aid.

Firemen from Dublin arrived

During the morning. They were met in the suburbs and conveyed to the scene of the fire by troops.

It is reported that some lives were lost in the burning buildings, but it was impossible to check the civilian population because of the general panic and the exodus of thousands.

Martial law was enforced with the utmost vigor Sunday and today.

Cork had calmed down today after passing through a certain reign of terror. During the night of Sunday the fire was

Two Buildings Burn.

The city's two buildings were burned or damaged, including the city hall which had previously been damaged by fire. The public library was destroyed and the court house gutted. The town exchange stood in the center of the burning area, surrounded by the houses of the residents.

Smoked water brought flying.

Smoke from a stove in which a fire had been burning jumps from a room on the Kingston Opera House lower floor, past the balcony and caused a mild start to the people in the Cityway Chemical Co. headquarters Sunday morning. No damage was done, the firemen soon discovered the cause for the smoke.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

It's All Right to Be Contented With Your Lot in Life, But That Doesn't Mean You Should Not Try to Improve It the Stroller Means.

"Well I suppose you have your Christmas gifts all bought," said the customer as he entered the barber shop this morning.

"Not quite," replied the barber, with a smile, "but I expect to wind it up shortly. Have you gotten yours yet?"

"Well," said the customer, "I believe in that old saying that it is more blessed to give than receive, and I think I will wait and see what I receive first."

"Huh," grunted the barber. "Don't get excited over it," advised the customer, "for happy is the man who knows when he is well off. It's the contented man who is the happy man."

"That may be so," retorted the barber, "but let me tell you that it's all right to be contented with your lot in life, but that doesn't mean you should not try to improve it."

"Now you said something," agreed the customer, "for that has always been my motto in life."

"It looks to me as though you had mislaid the motto," interrupted the barber rather sarcastically.

"You need not talk," retorted the customer, "for you seem to be fairly well contented with your lot."

"Well we barbers see a lot of things," hinted the barber with a grin, "and our motto has always been service first, as long as you get paid for it."

"I thought you were going to spring a motto like 'modesty and merit,'" said the customer.

"Well we have both," replied the barber, "in fact the older I grow the more I am inclined to believe that a man is naturally more modest than a woman."

"The Higginsville poet don't agree with you on that proposition though," said the customer.

"How is that?" asked the barber. "Speaking of the modern woman he muses like this," said the customer quoting:

"She displayed a shapely ankle, As all on lookers knew; But yet she was a modest violet, For she hid her ears from view."

MEN TO ENTERTAIN.

Dance and Specialties at Holy Cross Hall.

The young men of Holy Cross Parish are arranging a big holiday dance for the 21st of this month, next Tuesday, in the parish hall.

A five piece orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for this opening holiday festivity, and the attendants are thereby assured the best of dance music. Preceding the dance a bill of the most popular entertainers in town will be given for the amusement of the guests.

Among those taking part will be Miss Hilda Moore, Tommy Dolan, Harry Clearwater, Cliff and Joe Moore, Perry Allen and George Allen, who will have returned from Washington and Jefferson College in time to do his part.

A part of the new additions to the parish house which have been in process of construction for the last four months will be in use for the evening and will add greatly to the attractiveness of the evening. The entrance hall and two upper floors will be entirely completed, while, it is expected that the decoration of the dining hall itself will be well under way.

Learn Corn Borer Rules.

Commissioner of Agriculture George E. Hogue is urging corn growers to become familiar with local quarantine regulations on the European corn borer before making plans for next season's planting.

Commissioner Hogue also said that those just outside of infested areas should keep a close watch for the appearance of the corn borer, and that there should be every effort toward co-operation in checking the spread of the insect so dangerous to the corn industry of the state and nation.

VOGUE OF OSTRICH

Plumes Curled and Uncurled Now Prime Favorite.

Pluffy Decoration Affords the Most Popular Hat Trimming of the Season.

Ostrich is the most popular hat trimming of the season. Long, graceful, curled plumes, little chic French curls, curled tightly, ostrich "fan" curls, curled loosely, and the uncurled ostrich curls, all are popular. The ostrich feather duster type of ostrich plume honors about equally.

One of the methods employed for making a very small hat with ostrich plume is to attach a curled plume at either side so that it forms a sort of ear. Such a hat recently shown was of blue and silver brocade made on a turban and very closely draped, and with plumes in smoke gray drooping at either side.

Still another charming small hat was of smoke gray velvet with the most delicate of a brim in front, two long curled plumes in self-color being attached in the center back, so they extended across the back and curled down a trifle at either side.

Sapphire blue is well up in front in the millinery color procession. Many well draped hats are fashioned of velvet in the shade of blue. One charming little turban seen was made of wide sapphire blue velvet ribbon woven basket fashion, interwoven silver threads giving a pretty note of contrast. A single soft feather was caught at one side. The entire hat, except for the silver threads, was in the vivid blue so extraordinarily beautiful when becoming.

LINGERIE BLOUSES HOLD OWN

Dainty Garments of Sheer Cotton Material Continue to Be Strong Favorite; Trimming Novelties.

The fine lingerie blouse never goes out of fashion. Notwithstanding the fact that innumerable styles in silk and georgette models, lovely affairs of lace, etc., are available for wear during the winter months, the demand for the sheer cotton blouse continues strong. Little that is unusual or new in style is shown but quite a number of new trimming novelties are offered.

Modern embroidery is generally used and flat lace and embroidery are frequently combined with very good effect, hands of the lace being joined in embroidered motifs, or vice versa. Colors and cuffs are frequently finished with hand-sewn scallops that are dainty and serviceable.

The charm of the lingerie waist is in the daintiness of its construction and all of the best models are practically entirely hand made. Hand drawn work is popular and a touch of color is frequently given the blouse by the use of colored thread in making the drawn work pattern.

Many women buy plain hand-made blouses in the shops and finish them at home by applying edgings of flat or rib coral lace, letting in panels and bands of hand made lace, embroidery, etc. By this process the uninteresting part of the work is avoided and when finished the garment will be a thing of beauty and a real treasure from the standpoint of money value.

Applique motifs are employed as finishing on many of the georgette and silk blouses shown this season. Applique may be applied onto georgette, while on silk blouses felt, device and even patent leather motifs are applied. Bands and yoke and breast also are frequently trimmed with applique.

Changing Pillow Covers.

So many housewives have overheard of using the vacuum cleaner to clean the covers on their feather pillows? Requires little effort. You have the usual preliminary—an egg-shaped pillow, covered with a smooth, light-colored material. A vacuum cleaner is available for use. The clean slip is fastened loosely to the opening which usually has the slip. A small opening in the slip is slipped over and turned to the short end and the slip is then turned and the vacuum cleaner is used to clean the slip in the usual way.

A FELLOW WHO FIGHTS ALONE.

The fellow who fights the fight alone, With never a word of cheer, With never a friend to help to lend With never a comrade near— 'Tis he has need of a stalwart hand And a heart not given to moan— He struggles for life, and more than life, The fellow who fights alone!

The fellow who fights the world alone, With never a father's smile, With never a mother's kindly tone— His sorrowful hours to grieve, Who joins the fray at the dawn of day And battles till light is down, Must needs be strong, for the fight is long— The fellow who fights alone!

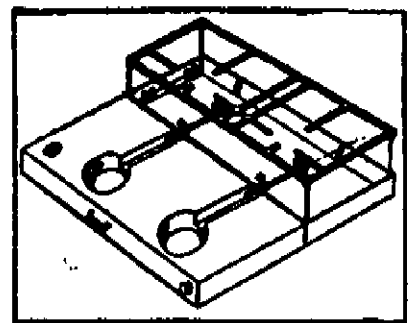

God bless the fellow who fights alone, And arm his soul with strength! Till safely out of the battle route He conquering comes at length, Till far and near to every ear The fame of his fight is blown; Till friend and foe in the victor know The fellow who fights alone!

It burns kerosene and has two burners, with a grid above, so that one can prepare a modest meal on it quite nicely and expeditiously. For a camp stove it should serve admirably, as it is very compact and can be transported.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ways of Lightning.

Judging by accounts in the public prints, lightning is attempting this season to show as much freakishness and variety as a British prime minister. In a western community a few days ago it shot its bolt through a knot hole in a veranda roof and tattooed a few artistic designs upon the shoulder of a fair young woman. In another place it tore an old cracked bell from a church tower and when the populace rushed up through the rain it found the breaks in the bell nicely welded. A dispatch from a Connecticut town reports that lightning there baked all the fruit on a heavily laden apple tree and never ruined a single specimen in the process. Truly, lightning is an interesting phenomenon of nature and it should command all the respect we have left over from just tribute to imaginative correspondents.—Toledo Blade.

Telephoned to Airplane.

Samuel Instone, a London merchant and ship owner, desiring to change orders which were being taken to Paris by an aviator for the shipment of coal to Marseilles, appealed to the British air ministry, and in a few moments was calling from his desk telephone to get the aviator in flight. After calling twice he heard the aviator saying: "Chattaway speaking; who's calling?" He could hear the whirr of the propeller and the aviator's voice sounded as if he were in the room. He said he was flying over Folkestone, with ten passengers aboard his airplane. The orders were given and obeyed.

Why They Giggled.

The soloist was not adored by the rest of the choir. In fact, his conceit had made him occupy quite the opposite position. So, the other Sunday, when he sang in his solo from the oratorio of "Elijah," "It is enough," they all looked their agreement. But there was joy on their faces when they noticed that the audience was giggling over the next phrase, "Oh, let me die." And when he worked the two phrases together and belted forth, "It is enough—oh, let me die," they just had to laugh.

She Thought Twice.

Jane had been into the jam and her mother in reproaching her had suggested that she think twice before doing wrong again.

After the second offense she was asked if she remembered the advice which had been given her. "Certainly, mother," she replied, "I did think twice. First I thought I wouldn't, and then I thought I would."

A Happy Accident.

Miss Gushmore—I hear you're the man who invented that cute little Charlie Chaplin subversive mustache. How did you ever happen to think of it?

Famous Fish Family.
 Pickerel is distinctive for pike, and is applied to the smaller species of the pike family and to the young of the larger species. It is most often applied to the banded pickerel, which seldom exceeds 12 inches in length. The muskellunge is a very large species of pike, sometimes attaining a length of eight feet. It is found in northern fresh waters of North America, and is a famous game fish.

Abbey as Vicarage.
 The earl of Shaftsbury has restored to the church at Herton, Dorset, for use as a vicarage, the fine old manor or abbey house with land immediately adjoining it. The house, which at one time formed part of a Benedictine abbey, possesses a large kitchen with an open fireplace in which an ox could easily be roasted. The kitchen will be used as a parish hall or a village institute.—London Mail.

FIGHT OVER NEW PRACTICE ACT

Many Lawyers Would Postpone Its Effective Date Because of State Printer's Delay—Judge Clearwater to Oppose This.

An Albany dispatch to the New York Tribune says:
 The next annual meeting of the State Bar Association, which will take place in New York city on January 21 and 22, will be enticed by a fight over the new civil practice act.

This act, the result of four years of labor of a special committee of jurists, headed by Judge Alphonso T. Clearwater of Kingston, was incorporated into law by the last legislature, and will go into effect April 15, 1921. Because of the delay of the state printer, who has had the official draft of the law since last May, the bench and the bar of the state have not been furnished with copies of the new act.

The failure of the state printer to furnish these copies has been seized upon by some as a reason to postpone the effective date for a year.

Clearwater to Oppose.
 Judge Clearwater, who is a former president of the State Bar Association, will oppose this move, which has assumed formidable proportions, and lodge his protest with the State Bar Association at its January meeting. Judge Clearwater, it is understood, may approve a postponement of the effective date until September 1 next.

"The bar will be as well prepared for the new civil practice act in September as in April of 1922," said Judge Clearwater today. "The simplification of practice is an immediate necessity. Unless the bar disentangles itself from the spider web of technicalities in which the administration of justice is enmeshed we shall be confronted with conditions which will result in a denial of justice to many litigants so seriously as to threaten the stability of some of our most cherished institutions."

"Among the marked improvements of the new practice act over the present procedure are these:
 "Actions may be consolidated or severed."

"Mistakes, irregularities or defects may be corrected or disregarded."
 "Judgements shall not be reversed on unsubstantial errors."

"No action shall be dismissed on grounds of mistake of venue, remedy or procedure."
 "No actions shall be defeated by the non-joinder or misjoinder parties."

Certiorari Writs Abolished.
 "Parties may be dismissed or brought in at any time, as the ends of justice may require."

"All parties in interest may be joined in an action, regardless of the extent of their interest."

"Taking evidence of parties and witnesses before trial to be broadened and simplified so as to eliminate the element of artifice and surprise."

"Judgment may be rendered in favor of any party at any stage of an action as to all or part of the causes of action, and the action continued as to the remaining issues."

"Demurrers, writs of mandamus, writs of prohibition and of certiorari are abolished and provision is made for obtaining similar relief by simple order."

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Dec. 13.—The Dorcas Society of the M. E. Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. O. Johnson. There was a fine attendance. Twenty-two of the ladies being present, and much work was accomplished.

The Monticello high school basketball team played the Ellenville high school team at Norbury hall on Friday evening, and Ellenville won again. A number of Monticello people attended and the game was quite exciting.

The senior class of the Ellenville high school held a cake sale at Hornbeck's grocery store on Saturday, December 11th.

Mrs. Delamater at the west end, is very ill with the grip.

An entertainment for the benefit of St. Mary's Catholic Church, under the direction of Mrs. William D. Cunningham will be given at Shadowland Theatre on Wednesday afternoon and evening, December 20th.

The fire bell rang at about seven o'clock Friday evening causing some excitement. A slight fire broke out at Goldstein's 5 and 10 cent store on Canal street. The fire companies quickly responded and the fire was soon put out.

The 7% 15 Year Debenture Gold Bonds which this Company is now offering have some especially attractive features.

For example: We have an easy payment plan under which these bonds may be paid for out of future earnings.

All that is required is a small payment down and the balance with the Gas and Electric bills for a period of 19 months.

A $100.00 bond for $5.00 down and $5.00 per month.

A $500.00 bond for $25.00 down and $25.00 per month.

A $1,000.00 bond for $50.00 down and $50.00 per month.

Large numbers of our customers are taking advantage of this plan.

Every dollar paid in earns 7% interest from the start.

Later, at your option, you can convert these bonds into capital stock which has paid 6% dividends since its origin.

ICE NECESSITY ON DAIRY FARM

Customer: "This milk is sour."
Milk Inspector: "Your bacteria count is too high."
"Choke-sucker." "I can't make good house out of this milk."
Buttermaker: "We can't use this 'sour'."

Think, doesn't it? You that is what happens regularly every year when an after can of milk arrives at the milk plant or creamery sour. One century returned over a 22,000 worth of milk and cream in one year to the farm. A milk plant received nearly 100,000 gallons of sour milk in one year.

What? Because the milk was held and shipped at too high a temperature and the bacteria in it multiplied so rapidly that the milk soured before it arrived.

Cooling milk on the farm will reduce this loss. All that is required is a supply of ice and a little care. Natural ice can be harvested on farms where 85 per cent of our milk is produced, and it is one of the real paying crops of the farm.

Beautiful Tropical Plant.
The climbing plants which interlock the tropical forests have flowers unsurpassed in beauty.

"TAD" CAN'T SEE BILL BRENNAN

Thinks Dempsey's First Appearance in Madison Square Garden Means Certain For Brennan, But You Never Can Tell.

BY "TAD."

(Famous cartoonist and sporting writer.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman, New York, Dec. 13.—Jack Dempsey will appear in a match at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night for the first time in his life.

Dempsey is the only heavy weight champion with the exception of Jeffries and Jack Johnson who has not appeared in Madison Square Garden. All the others from Sullivan down fought and won there.

Tomorrow night the champion meets Bill Brennan.

We can't say that we get an awful kick out of the match. Brennan is a good man. He's just about Dempsey's size and is a good boxer, but as far as boxing goes, Bill is a bit thin.

He has met and won from a number of men that Dempsey met but where they stuck along with Bill they were carried out after meeting Dempsey.

Dempsey stopped Brennan a few years ago in six rounds. After the bout Brennan declared a broken ankle forced him to stop. Tomorrow night a broken jaw may force him to "sky the wiper."

There is no betting on the bout at all. Odds are too great in Dempsey's favor. They are not even betting Bill will stay ten rounds, or even five. Bill may win with a K. O. Who knows?

Certainly the Athletics might beat the Cleveland Indians five in a row. Sir Barton might make Man O'War look as though he had a truck hitched on behind. Thormahon might out-bat Babe Ruth. Sure thing. But would you bet on it?

Nature's Beauty.

In West Virginia and similar states where the climate average is limited and it is difficult to grow sufficient silage and roughage for dairy cows, the sunflower comes as a great blessing, adding wonderfully to the wealth and industry through the dairy products. It is certainly interesting to note the many hitherto familiar but unattractive products that have been found to be abounding in possibilities of usefulness and wealth.—Thrift Magazine.

Abraham Schneider

Abraham Schneider, a sailor on the U. S. destroyer Wadsworth, is probably the richest gub in Uncle Sam's navy. He recently inherited $50,000, but in spite of his new wealth will stick to the navy. "There's nothing like the life," says Schneider.

"IF I WERE KING"

This is an excellent film version of Justin Huntley McCarthy's well-known novel and stage play. It ranks as a striking costume feature, with every detail of the period carefully worked out and elaborated. Its atmosphere is thoroughly convincing, the love story of the vagabond poet, replete with thrills and heroic endeavor, never loses interest. An attraction de luxe.

In the earlier ages the Romans used leather saddles and stirrups. Saddles were in use in the third century and are mentioned as made of leather in 600. Stirrups were not known before the fifth century, and not in general use before the twelfth. Side saddles for ladies were introduced by Anne, queen of Richard II. in 1380.

Few Wealthy Presidents.

Eight of our Presidents were men of wealth when they took the oath—Washington, Madison, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren, Polk, Fillmore, Pierce and Buchanan. Cleveland left the White House rich at the end of his second term and Roosevelt, who was always well off, having inherited a fortune from his father, a close partner, because much wealthier before he died.

Contributions That Will Mean Much May Be Left at Mrs. Reed's.

Mrs. C. N. Reed is now making arrangements for the annual Christmas tree, presentation of gifts and entertainment at the tuberculosis hospital, and will be glad of contributions of money, fruit or gifts for this festivity, which means, so very much to these shut-ins. In order to take advantage of the Christmas stock of goods to buy from, especially in order to get such gifts as the superintendent nurse advises would most make glad the hearts of the patients, all contributions may be sent to or left at the home of Mrs. C. N. Reed, 43 Crown street. The entertainment which is always a joyfully anticipated part of the Christmas festivities, will be provided by the young people of the Trinity M. E. Church. Already J. Garbarino has made his annual contribution of a fine Christmas tree.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 12.—The stock market continued to work to lower levels at the opening today, initial prices showing losses of from fractions to over 1 point. These losses extended shortly after the start until some issues dropped over 1 point and in many cases sold at the lowest levels of the year. Steel Common dropped $\frac{1}{4}$ to a new low for the year of 79. Baldwin Locomotive was in heavy supply falling $\frac{1}{4}$ to 87 $\frac{1}{2}$, a new low for the year. Crucible also touched a new low mark for the season yielding over 1 point to 43.

The railway stocks were again under pressure. Mexican Petroleum continued to fluctuate over a wide range. The shipping stocks also sustained sharp losses. American Woolen sold off to a new low price for the year of 61 $\frac{1}{2}$. The market continued to be unsettled during the afternoon when still lower levels were established in a number of stocks and about the only demand coming from covering of shorts and pool support.

The market closed weak. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds weak.

DuBois was taken to the Kingston City Hospital where he was attended by Drs. A. C. Gates and E. E. Norwood. He may lose the sight of the injured eye.

TEETH IN NEW BALL AGREEMENT

And Judge Landis Has Far-Reaching Power—All Hands Expected to Ratify—Inks to Vote as Falls in Future.

Telegraph to The Freeman, New York, Dec. 13. (By Staff Writer.)

The new national agreement framed by the joint committee of major league representatives is looked upon by baseball men here today as the most important executive step taken since the formation of the National League and American League. It is an instrument, they say, which will accomplish things beyond the expectations of followers of the game for it is so worded as to provide for the treatment of an emergency.

Perhaps the biggest feature of the new agreement is that it provides punishment for infraction of the rules by players, clubs and others and for actions detrimental to the welfare of the game not covered by the written word.

The power granted to Judge Landis is broader and further reaching than that held by the old national commission, but baseball men are satisfied that it has been placed in the best possible hands, the hands of a fearless and capable administrator.

The fact that future questions which arise, both major leagues will be voted on by clubs instead of leagues is one of the features of the new document. As the action which empowers Judge Landis to impose a fine of $5,000 on a major league club for an offense detrimental to the game.

That the new agreement will be ratified by both major leagues is a certainty. The National League will adopt it at its meeting here tomorrow. The American League will ratify it in Chicago, the week will also ratify it and the various minor leagues are expected to follow suit at a meeting in Chicago on January 10.

An agreement between the majors and minors covering the draft, territorial and player protection and other matters of interest is to be executed to all leagues by the minor league committee which helped frame both new agreements. Each league will of course vote separately on the new agreement, but popular opinion among the minors favors practically every feature embodied in the document with the exception of the draft against which certain club owners in the new International League and the American Association. The chances of the draft being restored, however, are better than 5 to 1 and those objecting will, it is believed, be voted down when the minor league body meets in January.

The new International League went into session here today at the Imperial Hotel. Difference of opinion in regard to the draft in its ranks not to mention squabbles over a salary limit and its observance were expected to keep the atmosphere warm for a time.

Reports of a big deal in the making between the Giants and Reds are in circulation here today. It was said New York has offered Manager McGraw a salary of $150,000 for the peak of the Cincinnati club. While neither Manager McGraw, nor the pilot of the Reds would admit it, the wires had it that Eddie Rosh is the player New York has in mind.

Anyone who has a good pitcher in trade for an outfielder, can take out President Nason of the Detroit Tigers. Nason has his flagstated to be trading material for a good pitcher.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees arrived here today and mingled with the managers. Huggins is ready to make a deal of two and may turn loose a pitcher on an instant.

COFFEY FIGHTS BOGASH FRIDAY

Vince Coffey, the local welterweight, has been matched by the Pioneer Sporting Club of New York City to fight fifteen rounds with Lou Bogash in the ring before the club Friday evening. Wednesday night Coffey fights Dick Bell, welterweight champion of the U. S. Navy, in rounds in the main bout before the Algonquin Club in Poughkeepsie. Promoter Gus Ivey expects a record breaking crowd and Kingston fans may obtain tickets for the fight at the store of Edward Cahill on the Strand.

Moran Business School Notes.
A letter of recommendation from the principal of the Moran Business School, Burgevin Building, opened the way to a high grade banking position for Miss Anna Curtis until recently a student of the combined school. Miss Curtis, a young lady of unusual ability, secured a few weeks ago to seek a market for her services in New York City. She was given a letter directed to the manager of the employment department of the Remington Typewriter Company, who immediately on her arrival arranged an interview with an official of the Columbia Trust Company, one of the largest banking houses in the metropolis. A few days later Miss Curtis entered the company's employ and she has written a letter of appreciation for the assistance rendered by the Moran School. She is delighted with her work as well as with the excellent salary received at the outset.

The interest manifested by the school seems to be reflected in that shown by its students even after an absence of several years.

There is a distinct advantage in being numbered among the graduates of the Moran School in view of the service rendered permanently by the school to its graduates. The management receives many requests from banking companies for information concerning students seeking important position, with banking houses and mercantile establishments.

Beautiful Literary Passages.
There are passages in Milton, Shakespeare and Wordsworth in which the mere cadence of the words is itself delicious to a delicate ear, though we cannot tell how and why. We are conscious of a strange, dreamy sense of enjoyment, such as one feels when listening in the night-time to the patter of rain upon the roof, or when lying upon the grass in a June evening, while a brook tinkles over the stones among the sedges and reeds.—From "Literary Style," by William Matthews.

Definition of a Friend.
Some one defined a friend as "one who is truer to me than I am to myself." We are not always true to ourselves, and one of the highest offices of friendship is to hold the life true to its best. The love that does not make us long to be better and stronger for its sake, and in gratitude for its possession, is not the highest type of love.
